Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time + Reflection

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus acknowledges inevitable conflicts arising among those living in the community of the church. Rifts in relationships between members of the church are actually rifts in relationship with Jesus himself. Not facing whatever fractures the unity of the church belies its gathering in Jesus' name. Healing fractures ensures that for members of the church, resolving conflicts and preserving the unity of the church comes from Jesus Himself and His continued presence in the community. The response to Jesus must come from the members of the church and their work of reconciliation.

MINISTRY MINUTES FROM ROBIN BLACK-RUBENSTEIN

From the Gospel this week we hear an important line that is easily recalled. “Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.” In spiritual direction (an opportunity to reflect on your daily life and experience of God with a director to deepen your relationship with God) often you will find that the director will have an empty third chair present. This is a reminder that God is present in the process and part of the conversation. I believe that it can be easy for us to remember God is there when we are having a positive experience; and many times we may pray fervently when life challenges us. The key for us is to remember that God is there in the midst of everything. Not metaphorically there, but really there. Jesus tells us this many times and left us with the gifts of the Holy Spirit in order for us to feel God’s presence more fully. It is not simply remembering God is there, but an awareness of the holy in all moments, especially the challenging ones. When we are able to recognize God’s presence in our everyday ordinary lives, it helps us when we have those more intense (positive or negative) moments, when we realize that God is truly with us everyday and everywhere. We discover that God has been waiting for us to seek a closer relationship. As we experience this, we open ourselves to closer relationships with each other.

Theology on Tap

Theology on Tap will meet Tuesday, September 30, 7:00 –9:00 p.m. in the Bona Lounge. Fr. Jeff will lead the topic: Utopia. How would the world look like if we could recreate it?

St. Boniface RCIA-RCIC

RCIA-RCIC begins Monday, September 8 @ 6:30 p.m. in the Acorn Room (lower level of church) with an Inquiry Session. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Catholic Church is welcome.

We will meet most Mondays up until the Easter Vigil.

DEACON DAN’S COLUMNPope Francis Calls for us to be in a Constant State of Renewal

On many Sundays, when he is at home in the Vatican, our Holy Father appears on a balcony above St. Peter’s Square to pray the Angelus with those who have gathered there and are waiting for him to appear. He usually gives a short teaching that relates to that Sunday’s gospel. Sunday, August 31 was such an occasion.

He reflected on the exchange between St. Peter and Jesus where Jesus told St. Peter he was thinking, not as God does, but as human beings do. Pope Francis saw in this exchange a warning that we are not to become “watered down” Christians who others cannot distinguish whether we are Christians or worldly.

Pope Francis emphasized the need for us to be in a constant state of renewal. He highlighted three gifts to help us be in renewal. The first gift is to read and meditate on the Gospel. He said “Remember, it would help you to carry a Gospel with you, a small book of Gospels, in your pocket or your purse, and read a small passage during the day. But always the Gospel because it is carrying the Word of Jesus and being able to read it.” He said that the second gift for renewal is receiving the Eucharist, especially during Sunday Mass and the third gift is making an annual retreat.

Pope Francis said “Gospel, Eucharist, Prayer, Do not forget: Gospel, Eucharist and Prayer. Thanks to these gifts from the Lord, we can conform not to the world, but to Christ, and follow Him on His path, the path of losing one’s own life in order to find it.”

We can be sure that Pope Francis practices what he preaches about the need to be in a constant state of renewal because his actions towards others are so filled with warmth and with love. I am going to look for a small Book of the Gospels and start carrying it with me!

~Deacon Dan

Commitment

Ultimate Accountability

In the Parable of the Talents, we are told of the judgment of the Master against the steward who did not make use of the one talent he had received:

But his master answered him, "You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sowed, and gather where I have not winnowed. Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest. So take the talent from him, and give it to him who has the ten talents....And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness; where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

(Matt. 25:26-30).

And in answer to how we failed God by failing each other:

Then they also will answer, "Lord when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you?" Then he will answer them, "Truly, I say to you, as you did it not to one of the least of these, you did it not to me." And they will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into life. (Matt. 25:44-46)

It has been said that the Gospel of Matthew referred to here, is a gospel of judgment, a writ, of accountability. Here, and throughout Sacred Scriptures, we have been given the guidelines for stewardship action that will help us face up to our ultimate accountability.

Cardinal Medeiros effectively summarized the logic of stewardship commitment in his homily at the 1973 International Stewardship Seminar in Rome when he said: Stewardship is not something about which we can say 'take it or leave it', the stakes here are nothing less than salvation and eternal life. When we walk away from stewardship, we walk down hill and the end is exterior darkness. When we embrace it-then we do make Christ live again among us, then through the Son, we do glorify the Father.

Taken from a series of articles from the International Catholic Stewardship Council entitled, "The Life of the Christian Steward".
